Welcome to Nîmes

Nîmes is anchored in the South of France, between the Cévennes, the Camargue, Provence and the Languedoc.

The city took form stone after stone and century after century around its Roman monuments.

Fine surprises are to be found near the best-preserved Arena of the Roman world and the Maison Carrée, which was consecrated to the cult of youth 2000 years ago. Private mansions, contemporary art, architecture and the Jardins de la Fontaine, show both the strong thread of the city's history and the Mediterranean charm. With pedestrian streets, the gourmet market, shady squares and terraces, festive spirit, Nîmes cultivates its differences.

The background of the image is a photograph of a highly ornate, classical-style ceiling. It features a grid of square recessed panels, each containing a detailed carved floral or sunburst motif. The ceiling is supported by large, fluted columns with elaborate, carved capitals. A dark blue circle is superimposed on the right side of the image, containing the word 'Essentials' in a white, cursive script. A dark blue diagonal bar extends from the right edge of the circle towards the bottom right corner of the frame.

Nîmes, Roman

From the best-preserved Amphitheatre in the Roman world to the Tour Magne overlooking the Jardins de la Fontaine, get to know our emblematic monuments that have survived two millennia.

Morning

Meet up with your guide to visit the main monuments, starting with the Arènes, the Roman Amphitheatre dating from the 1st century A.D.

Going up the Boulevard Victor Hugo, you will discover the Maison Carrée, the main temple of the City dedicated to the son and grandson of the Emperor Augustus; inside this temple, watch the film that traces the history of Nîmes through a Roman family.

Continue your tour through the Jardins de la Fontaine, created in 1745, under Louis XV, sheltering the Temple de Diane in the lower part and at its summit you will discover the Tour Magne, the highest and the most prestigious tower of the Roman city, offering a breathtaking panorama of the city.

Lunch in the city-centre.

Afternoon

Tour of the Musée de la Romanité. Its opening in June 2018 was a major event.

Appreciate its contemporary architecture. The Musée de la Romanité offers a formidable journey through time, owing to an innovative scenography using the latest technologies... A unique visitor experience that lifts the borders between Antiquity and the present.

Nîmes, from Antiquity to present

Like Roman buildings and mansions, contemporary architecture is part of the Nîmes lifestyle. Discover how the works of international architects and plastic artists fit into a two-thousand-year-old city.

Morning

Through an urban journey, your guide will show you how Nîmes has always integrated its ancient heritage into everyday life. Decorations, colonnades or arches borrowed from Roman architecture, urban routes and landscapes shaped around its extraordinarily well preserved monuments, make Nîmes a city with an exceptional character.

For Lunch at La Table Du 2, ideally located on the 1st floor of the Museum of Romanity, offering a breathtaking sight of the best-preserved Roman amphitheater in the world. The Chef Franck Putelat is the mastermind behind the gourmet menu.

Afternoon

The works of contemporary artists and architects leave their footprints and renew the city. From the Place d'Assas designed by Martial Raysse to the Carrée d'Art Jean Bousquet, by Norman Foster, not to mention the Musée de la Romanité designed by Elizabeth de Portzamparc, this new-generation archaeological museum with its unique façade covered with glass, subtly suggests Roman mosaics, some of which are major pieces in the museum's collections.

Nîmes, the water and le Pont du Gard: « the aqueduct of Nîmes »

Running water was a distinctive feature of the ancient Roman city. Intended for domestic use and playing a role in places of worship, hydraulic developments combined the useful with the pleasant, channelling and showcasing water.

Morning

This day dedicated to water starts with your guide at the Castellum Divisorium, an extremely rare vestige built in the middle of the 1st century A.D., that served as the point of arrival of water from the Pont du Gard, the roman aqueduct, to Nîmes, with the city's water supply. Then, from the Jardins de la Fontaine to the Musée du Vieux Nîmes, water was of primordial importance in the history of the textile industry. It is linked to the cotton twill fabric, the ancestor of denim, which Levi-Strauss used to cut his first jeans.

Lunch in te city-centre.

Afternoon

Set off by coach for the Pont du Gard, a masterpiece of ancient architecture, and the highest Roman aqueduct in the world at 49 m high! For 5 centuries, it transported water from the Fontaine d'Eure in Uzès to Nîmes. Listed as a UNESCO World Heritage Site since 1985, the entire site awaits your discovery, including a museum and a discovery path called «Memories de Garrigues».

Nîmes, between the graperines and the olive trees

The Costières de Nîmes vineyards already existed in Roman times and olive trees have always been part of the Nîmes countryside. This day of visits takes you to the very heart of the Mediterranean identity of Nîmes.

Morning

Departure by bus to Saint-Gilles. Discovery of an olive grove of more than 10,000 organic olive trees and tasting.

The climate and soil of a region constitute a biotope that determines the adaptation of vegetation. Each olive growing area offers a dominant variety of olives where it gives the best of itself.... The Picholine has thus chosen its territory in the Nîmes basin.

Nîmes olive oil has been classified as PDO since 2004 and Nîmes olive since 2006.

Nîmes', Michelin star chefs

Nîmes offers one of the most beautiful gastronomic experiences in the region, this delicious journey will delight the most discerning gourmet.

Day 1

Settle in to the 5 Star hotel, Maison Albar Hotels L'Imperator located in the city center. Recently renovated, this urban resort with its many living spaces promises you one of the most mythical stays in the South of France. An invitation to travel accentuated by a 350 m² «Codage» spa and an exceptional culinary experience by Pierre Gagnaire.

12:30 pm : Lunch at « La Table du 2 », restaurant of the Musée de la Romanité.

Franck Putelat, 2 Star chef, elaborates the menu: from the daily menu to his signature dishes, he revisits the classics of French brasserie food and offers a cuisine renewed every season. Alex Dilling, 2 Star chef in London, signs one of his emblematic dishes, this season.

02:00 pm : Discover the Musée de la Romanité with a guide.

Facing the Arena, it invites the visitor to live a unique experience for a journey through time and the history of Nîmes, from the 7th century BC to the Middle Ages, with a very innovative museography and an immersive scenography.

08:00 pm : Dinner at “Le Duende” restaurant of your 5 Star hotel, Maison Albar Hotels L'Imperator.

Chef Nicolas Fontaine takes control of L'Imperator's kitchens. Disciple of Pierre Gagnaire, he has been collaborating with him for 14 years. It is a real honour for him to become the chef of one of the most beautiful places in his hometown. This new challenge represents the culmination of several years of work and passion.

Day 2

12:00 pm : Setting course to Le Pont Du Gard, a roman vestige that used to carry water from the Eure fountain in Uzès towards Nîmes.

Once you are there, an experience that occurs once in a blue moon awaits you: a walkthrough roman wines across the Pont Du Gard. This very wine, timeless, dazzles one with its richness and its aromas.

The tasting will go along with local products such as eggplant caviar or brandade, be followed by a lunch at Les Terrasses: a cuisine that innovates, shakes and questions the established Mediterranean flavors.

Last but not least, some roaming through the local cultural spaces. The on-site museum is the largest multidisciplinary interpretation center in France. Memoire de Garrigues is an open-air 15 hectare museum recounting landscape-defining activities that have existed for 2000 years.

08:00 pm : Choose between two gourmet experiences :

Le Skab, 1 star restaurant, Alban Barbette and Damien Sanchez welcome you to their gastronomic restaurant SKAB.

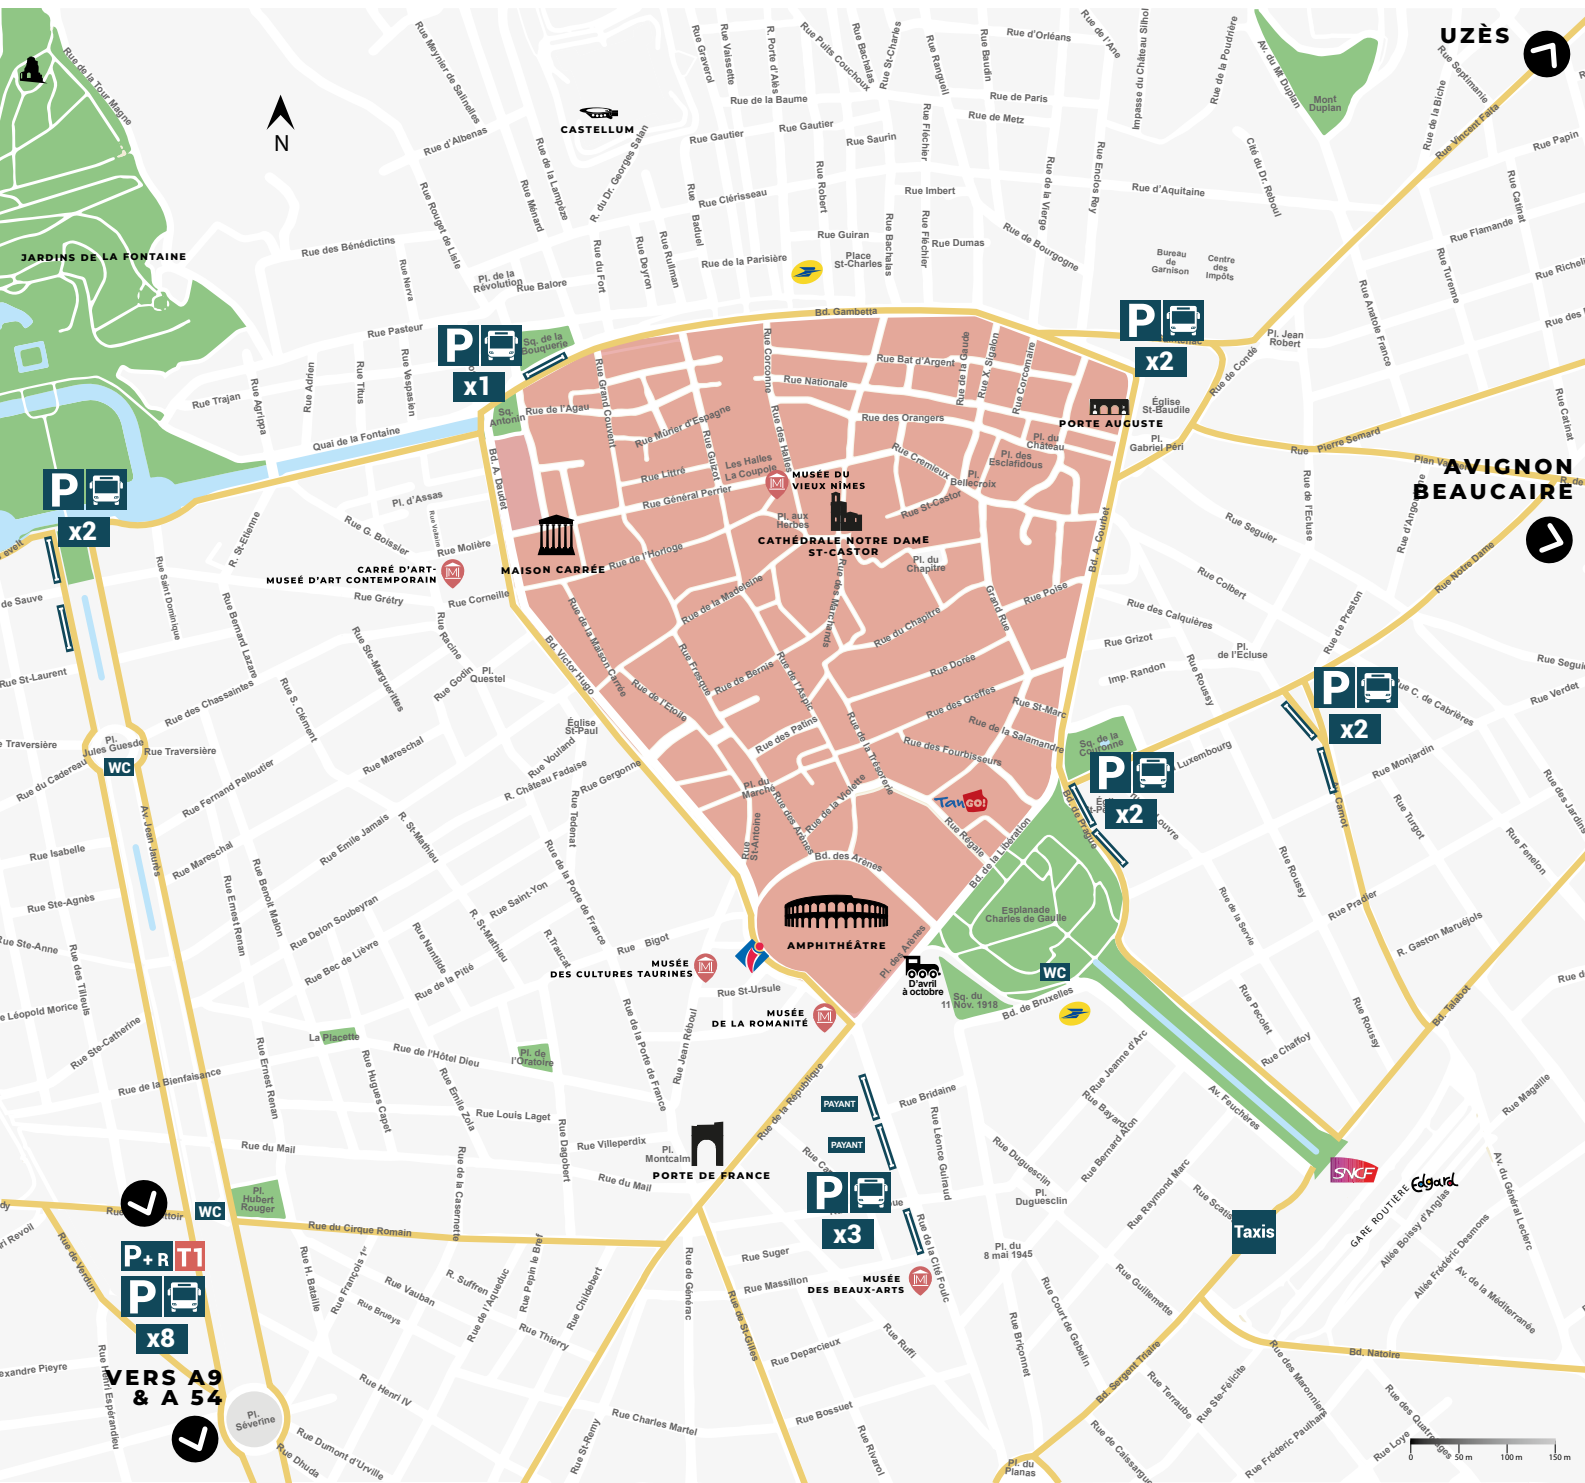

Chez Alexandre, a 2-Star restaurant, in the settings of its park, sheltering hundred-year-old trees with Mediterranean essences, over the years Michel Kayser has shaped the restaurant to his own image. He has turned his starred restaurant into a unique place, a reflection of the region and a showroom for local expertise.
